

Trustee to graduate with class of '72

Next month's graduating class procession may pose a bit of dilemma for C. D. Tully—whether to march as a member of the Board of Trustees, or whether to march as a member of the Class of '72.

Tully

Tully, publisher of the Post-Tribune newspaper, Gary, has completed requirements for a B.S. degree in journalism-English. "I've always wanted a college degree," Tully said, "but as a youngster I just wouldn't settle down. When my work brought me to Gary and in contact with St. Joseph's Calumet College, which has the only journalism program in the immediate area, I decided to enroll."

Tully, born in Charleston, W. Va., had attended Purdue University School of Electrical Engineering and Morris Harvey College School of Business Administration.

He joined the Ridder Newspaper Group (of which the Post-Tribune is a part) in 1954 in Minnesota, after working on the Charleston Daily Mail, the Elkhart Truth and the Evansville Courier Press. Two years later he was appointed general manager of WDSM TV and radio in Duluth and four years later named assistant general manager of the Duluth Herald and News-Tribune. In 1962 he became business manager of the St. Paul Dispatch-Pioneer Press. He came to Gary in 1966 as general manager of the Post-Tribune, became associate publisher in 1970, and was named publisher last month.

Tully lives in Crown Point with his wife, Sylvia, son, Michael, a student at Crown Point High School, and daughter, Sue, a student at Purdue University.

New Horizons' fund drive moves toward $2 million objective

The $2 million goal set for the New Horizons' fund drive may be reached in 1972, according to Harry Cane, director of development. The three-year program, launched February 1, is designed to expand the library and student union facilities, to acquire and remodel property, and to construct a learning center.

"Present donations total $300,000," Cane said. This puts the New Horizons' program at about 15% of its $2 million goal.

A pledge of $50,000 was given to the program by the family of Colonel Walter J. Riley, founder and honorary chairman of the First National Bank of East Chicago. A donation of $10,000 was received from the Robert J. Welsh family foundation as a memorial to the late Robert J. Welsh, Sr., former member of the college Board of Trustees.

An anonymous gift of $75,000 was given for the program.

Members of the Board of Trustees have pledged $100,000 for the New Horizons over a three-year period. Staff and faculty have pledged $4,000. Student gifts included a $2,000 donation from the Student Council and a $200 donation from Alpha Phi Omega (APO), a fraternity.

"There are pledges ranging upward to $5,000 at this time involving a dozen individuals and firms," Cane said. "There are also a number of small gifts in the $100 and $200 range," he said.

A corporate gift of $45,000 has recently been pledged, according to Cane. He said that the identity of the donor will be announced at a later date.

Plan May dinner to honor priesthood anniversaries

Wuest

The Rev. Albert A. Wuest, professor of chemistry and the Rev. Francis L. Kinney, assoc. professor of history, will be honored by a dinner May 13 at St. John's Panel Room in Whiting. The dinner will be in honor of Father Wuest's 40th anniversary in the priesthood (May 1) and Father Kinney's 25th (May 15).

Father Wuest has been visiting in San Diego with Lorri Spuehler, former chairman of the Fine Arts Department here. He has also renewed acquaintances with former faculty members living in the area, Dr. and Mrs. Henry Martin and Dr. and Mrs. John Swanke.

Kinney

Father Wuest suffered a stroke early in the school year and following his discharge from St. Catherine's Hospital, recuperated at his sister's home in Cincinnati.

He reports that some feeling has returned to his left hand and arm. He's pleased with his recovery, but wishes "it were faster."

Faculty, Staff plan busy spring, summer

Faculty and staff members are bustling about this spring and looking forward to varied activities this summer.

Barbara Aubin, lecturer, Fine Arts Dept., recently held a one-"man" art show at the Oak Park, Ill., public library; participated in an art show at Chicago State University and Barat College in Lake Forest, Ill., and will exhibit her work at the Chicago Society of Artists Painting and Sculpture show at the Chicago Federal Court Building this month. Father Mark Beischel, asst.

Beischel

professor of psychology and education, recently attended the American Personnel and Guidance Assn. annual convention and the American Educational Research Assn. annual convention, both in Chicago; served as judge for the psychology projects at the Calumet Regional Science Fair at the Hammond Civic Center this month. He was awarded a $405 educational grant from Delta Theta Tau sorority to help pay expenses of his doctoral thesis work at Indiana University.

Ronald L. Cooley, asst. director of admissions attended the Indiana Personnel and Guidance Assn. conference at Purdue University; the National Catholic Guidance Assn. conference in Chicago and American Personnel and Guidance assn. conference both in Chicago; spoke to the Hobart (Ind.) High School Future Business Leaders of America club and the Wirt (Gary) High School business education classes on the college's professional secretary associate of arts program.

Roberta Dinsmore, lecturer, Dept. of Education, attended the State Title I meeting in South Bend and the School Reading Council meeting in Lowell.

James L. Fattore, chairman, Division of Management, recently completed writing a correspondence course "Financing in the American Economy" for La Salle Extension University in Chicago; served as a member of the North Central Assn. accreditation team studying Thornton Fractional South High School in Lansing, Ill.; will attend the American Assn. of Collegiate Schools of Business annual meeting in New Orleans next month.

Fattore

Dr. George J. Fleming, chairman, Dept. of History, is continuing research on John A. Logan (1826-1886), Civil War general and U.S. Senator, and will attend the Organization of American Historians in Washington and the Civil War Round Table in Chicago this month. His wife, Lenore, is a vice president of the Chicago Council of Girl Scouts. Dr. Daniel A. Gawronski, asst. professor of psychology and education and president of campus American Association of University Professors (AAUP), has been appointed to the state rehabilitation task force of the Indiana Board of Health's planning council to serve on the Indiana Psychological Assn. committee on school psycholmetrist, psychologist specifications. The committee will make recommendations to the State Dept. of Public Instruction on school certification for these positions. He will serve as chairman of the Indiana Psychological Assn. judging committee at the Regional Science Fair in Hammond this month.

Jay Gould, college registrar, was recently named to the convention site selection committee of the Indiana Assn. of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions officer at Butler University, Indianapolis. The committee will meet this month. Alfred H. Hayes, director of cooperative education recently attended the annual meetings of the Cooperative Education Assn. in Cleveland and the Indiana Planning Assn. at Purdue University.

Gould

Father Clare Hendricks, theology instructor, was recently appointed to the Diocesan Committee for Religious Education. John Jaros, director of admissions, recently attended the College Entrance Examination Board and the American Assn. of Higher Education meetings in Chicago and the Assn. of Chicago Area Catholic Colleges and Universities at Illinois Benedictine College in Lisle, Ill. Father Francis L. Kinney, chairman of the Dept. of Education was host at the annual dinner for personnel in the college's student teaching program, held in the Panel Room, St. John's Parish in Whiting and attended the American Assn. of Colleges for Teacher Education meeting in Chicago.

Raymond J. Krajewski, academic dean, attended the following meetings: Education Profession Development, Indianapolis; National Endowment for the Humanities, Notre Dame University; Chicago Area Deans and Directors of Evening Schools, Purdue University; Anderson Co. scholarship in Gary; North Central Assn. in Chi-

Prof plans summer study in England

Okamura

Lawrence Okamura, asst. professor of history, will be in England from July to September attending Oxford University. There he will study medieval science of the 13th and 14th centuries. He hopes to do additional research at the British Museum and on the Continent.

At Oxford he will study natural sciences and mathematics and their relationship to logic, philosophy, theology and aristotelian cosmology. "If time permits," Okamura said, "I will research Venetian citizenship of the 14th century."

Father John M. Lefko, college president, will speak at the East Chicago NAACP meeting this month. Recently he offered the opening prayer at the State House of Representatives in Indianapolis, was interviewed on WJOB Hammond radio; spoke at the Hammond Rotary meeting and served on the Inland Steel Ryerson Scholarship Selection Committee meeting in Chicago.

Sister Marie Estelle Li Pomi, assoc. professor of English and French, will attend the College English Convention in Boston, Catholic Library Assoc. meeting in Chicago, and the Teaching of Foreign Language conference in Chicago. Rogers E. Randall, lecturer in chemistry, is serving as co-director of computer science Saturday classes for high school science students at the American Oil Co. in East Chicago. He is one of three finalists for the Chemical Industries Council Enterprise Award to be presented this month in

(Continued on page 3, col. 1)

ST. JOSEPH'S CALUMET COLLEGE

4721 Indianapolis Blvd.

East Chicago, Indiana 46312

Telephones: (219) 397-9197

Chicago Line: 374-2528

President Father John M. Lefko

Editor Lillian S. Bell

We welcome your comments

Voice with a smile

Owner of the melodious voice that chimes "St. Joseph's Calumet College, may I help you?" is Mrs. Josephine Ross, switchboard operator, who began on the job last year.

Ross

"I applied for a secretarial position," Mrs. Ross said, "but though there was such an opening, the need for a switchboard operator was more urgent. I accepted that job because it offered a little more money and a challenge."

"I like dealing with people and helping solve their problems," she continued. Her unfailing pleasantness comes from the knowledge that smiles and laughter go farther than anger, "but when I'm pushed to the brink, speaking v-e-r-y slowly calms me down and the caller as well."

Mrs. Ross, who lives in Gary, has two sons. Howard, 16, is a student at Roosevelt High School; Lawrence, 10, attends Jefferson elementary school.

"Writing poetry and working in community and club activities fill what I have of spare time. I'm busy, and I love it," she said.

Faculty

(Continued from page 2)

Chicago by the Chemical Industries Council — Midwest and the Manufacturing Chemists' Assn. in Chicago. He will also attend the National Science Teachers Assn. meeting as a member of the group's evaluation committee. This summer he will research his Ph.D. degree at Ohio State University.

Father Donald Ranly, asst. professor of speech and journalism, will attend the Catholic Press Assn. meeting in Banff, Alberta, Canada. He has been teaching a reading course to lay commentators in the Gary diocese, spoke to the Tenth Annual Reading Institute at St. Francis College in Ft. Wayne; conducted a day of recollection for the Holy Name Society, St. Mary's Church; addressed the first diocesan-wide Ultreya of the Cursillo in Gary, the 24th annual Institute of Liturgical Studies at Valparaiso University, conducted a retreat for young

187 students will receive baccalaureate degrees

One hundred eighty seven students will receive baccalaureate degrees in May and July of this year, according to Jay Gould, registrar. There will be 104 graduating in May, 83 in July.

The May graduates and their majors are: Babatunde Agoro, Chicago, management; Paul Joseph Austgen, Hammond, accounting/management; Betty L. Babbitt, Whiting, elementary education; Ronald S. Bados, Munster, management; Kenneth E. Balon, East Chicago, accounting; Marilyn J. Bercik, Hammond, elementary education; Ann R. Berge, Hammond, elementary education; Charles Bergstrom, Chicago Heights, Ill., accounting; John Bigus, Calumet City, Ill., management.

David W. Blaauw, Frankfort, Ill., management; Arthur F. Block, Chicago, management; Michael W. Bosch, East Chicago, political science; Lawrence M. Browne, Richton Park, Ill., management; Randolph O. Cano, East

Chicago, sociology; Charles R. Conner, Jr., Park Forest, Ill., management; Joseph C. Conrad, Munster, accounting; Sr. Ramona J. Corrales, Denver, Colo., sociology; Catherine Dankovis, Hammond, elementary education; Martin J. Deacy, Chicago, sociology; Maureen M. Deering, Chicago, elementary education; Joseph D. Dernay, Whiting, elementary education.

John W. Desmond, Oak Lawn, Ill., journalism/social science; Stephen D. Desmond, Chicago Heights, Ill., accounting; David A. Dickerson, Crown Point, management; Paul E. Doherty, Highland, management; Thomas F. Dondzila, Chicago, mathematics; James L. Donelson, Hammond, management; Paulette I. Dubczak, Hammond, elementary education; George J. Dudzik, Hammond, management; Peter R. Durr, Jr., Portage, manage-

(Continued on page 4, col. 2)

Fete Trustee Specker

Specker

Open House was held March 25, in honor of the 70th birthday anniversary of Eugene R. Specker, member of the Board of Trustees, in the Lewin Student Center.

A resident of Whiting, Specker is a native of Crown Point, where his family was among the early settlers and landowners in Lake County. During most of his life he resided in Hammond and East Chicago. He is one of the county's pioneer automotive repairmen and dealers.

Specker has managed property endowments for the college since 1962 when he gave the college several gifts of property, including its library building which was dedicated in memory of his late wife.

married women at the Cenacle in Milwaukee. He was speaker at the annual banquet of the Twin City Community Council.

The Reverend R. Donald Weaver, lecturer in theology, will attend the

3-day folk festival set for June

A three-day Calumet Folk Festival, featuring stage performances and exhibits by Calumet area ethnic and nationality groups, will be held June 16 through June 18 on the campus.

Highlighted by continuous entertainment and exhibit and sale of ethnic crafts and foods, the weekend Folk Festival invites the participation of performing groups from throughout the Calumet Region.

Units from Gary, East Chicago, Highland, Hammond, Chicago and Whiting are cooperating in organizing the Folk Festival.

Heading the Calumet Folk Festival Committee are Sam Condes of Whiting, and Mrs. Sylvia Tully of Crown Point.

Loddy Zivich of Whiting and Mrs. Dennis Karas of East Chicago are chairmen of the stage performances and exhibits, respectively.

Thirty area organizations have been represented at preliminary planning meetings, and all groups are invited to submit applications for participation in the festival. Application blanks and general instructions may be obtained through the College Development Office.

regional School of Christian Mission at Illinois Wesleyan University in Bloomington and will lead a retreat at Epworth Forest, near Warsaw, for the First United Methodist Church of Lowell.

Lead council

Hanchar-Powell

Ruby Powell, junior, of East Chicago, was recently elected president of the Student Council. She succeeds Ron Hanchar of Lansing, Ill. Pictured above with the new president is Vice President Richard Diombala, junior, of Hammond. Other officers are Carolyn Mojzik, sophomore, of Hammond, secretary; Carol Nowak, junior, of Hammond, treasurer; Diane Stark, junior, of Chicago, auditor.

Hold $100-couple dinner dance

The Annual Dinner and Dance for the college was held this month at Balmoral Park, Crete, Ill.

Mrs. Daniel T. Daly, Highland, and Mrs. Joseph C. O'Neill, Calumet City, with their husbands, were co-chairmen for the seventh annual dinner.

Daly and O'Neill are members of the college's Board of Trustees which sponsors the annual $100-a-couple dinner-dance.

Helping with arrangements were Mrs. James L. Fattore Jr., South Holland; Mrs. Chester Wleklinski, Munster; Mrs. Eskil T. Eskilson, Gary; Mrs. Frank Mader, Crown Point; Mrs. Jerome Kutak, Hammond. Entertainment by the college Drama Club highlighted the evening. More than 600 persons attended the 1971 dinner, also held at Balmoral Park.

Graduates

(Continued from page 3)

ment; Dennis E. Dybowski, Calumet City, Ill., accounting/management.

Roberta L. Emerson, Hammond, management; Michael G. Fornaciari, Chicago, accounting; Charles P. Frederick, Dolton, Ill., sociology; Gale M. Fus, South Holland, Ill., elementary education; Sharon F. Ganz, Chicago, elementary education; Ray J. Giannini, Jr., Gary, management; Vivian M. Green, Hammond, English; Elizabeth Gutierrez, East Chicago, accounting; Pamela A. Halper, Chicago, sociology; Mary A. Hapak, Whiting, elementary education.

Education major

Marilyn M. Hill, Lansing, Ill., elementary education; John E. Hoffman, Park Forest, Ill., accounting; Deborah Jo Hubal, Chicago, English; Deloris G. Huskey, Whiting, elementary education; Sandra M. Jones, Hammond, biology; Lawrence E. Kagemann, Sr., Valparaiso, sociology; Rebecca J. Katayanagi, Chicago, elementary education; John Kinder, Gary, management; Dean F. Kliver, Chicago, mathematics.

Susan M. Koscielniak, Munster, English; Stephen M. Koselke, Lansing, Ill., philosophy; Donald E. Kozlowski, Chicago, management; Michael T. Kozlowski, Chicago Heights, Ill., management; Sr. Mary K. Kuenstler, P.H. J.C., East Chicago, elementary education; Edward J. Kusnir, Whiting, accounting; Mary B. Laskowski, East Chicago, philosophy; Richard J. Lobue, Dolton, Ill., management; James P. McCarthy, Evergreen Park, Ill., management; Thomas E. Maass, Dolton, Ill., management.

Thomas J. Machnikowski, Hammond, sociology; Thomas A. Mandich, Gary, management; Marcia G. Martin, East Chicago, elementary education; Michael E. Melko, Lansing, management; Walter L. Miles, Gary, sociology; David D. Miller, Highland, economics/management; Lawrence M. Mis, Chicago, accounting.

Joseph L. Mojzik, Hammond, management; Irene H. Molle, Hammond, history; William T. Mount, Chicago, management; Robert J. Necastro, Lansing, Ill., management; Gary Neetz, Chicago, accounting; Michael C. O'Keefe, Chicago, management; Patrick J. O'Neill, South Holland, Ill., management; John A. Peltz, Midlothian, Ill., management.

Journalism grad

Bruce E. Peterson, Hammond, journalism/English; Linda J. Rak, East Chicago, elementary education; James B. Rasmussen, Chicago Heights, Ill., accounting; Sr. Miriam Therese Rau, A.S.C., East Chicago, elementary education; Evelyn Ann Saczawa, Highland, elementary education; Anthony E. Saklaczynski, Munster, elementary education; George V. Sapienza, Chicago, medical technology; John R. Sapyta, East Chicago, elementary education; William J. Savageau, Gary, management; Arlene C. Sikora, Whiting, history; Marilyn Smith, Chicago, elementary education; Bruce A. Stevens, Chicago Heights, journalism/social science.

Robert T. Strube, Chicago, philosophy/sociology; Lynn M. Svitko, Whiting, elementary education; Bernard T. Talian, Hobart, sociology; Carol Marie Taylor, East Chicago, elementary education; Bruce P. Terry, Riverdale, Ill., management; Wayne J. Tomczak, East Chicago, management; Michael G. Tomko, Hammond, fine arts/speech and theatre; Agnes D. Tropp, Chicago, elementary education; C. Darrow Tully, Crown Point, journalism/English.

Marilyn T. Ulreich, South Holland, Ill., English; Henry Velasquez, East Chicago, sociology; Gerald D. Verde, Dolton, Ill., accounting; June H. Wehmer, Calumet City, Ill., elementary education; Joseph R. Whalen, East Chicago, history; Dale P. Zahn, Park Forest, Ill., speech and theatre; Albert L. Zralka, Lansing, Ill., management; Helen L. Zurawski, Hammond, elementary education.

ST. JOSEPH'S CALUMET COLLEGE
4721 INDIANAPOLIS BOULEVARD
EAST CHICAGO, INDIANA 46312

NON-PROFIT ORG.
U. S. Postage
PAID
Permit No. 278
East Chicago, Ind.

BR LEO UTRUP CPPS
ST JOHN PARISH --BOX 711
1849 LINCOLN AVE
WHITING IN 46394